

Leaving a Lasting Legacy

The Miller Family: Up in the Air

Kalang ranch was founded by Joe and Judy Miller. They managed the operation together for several decades, having only one child, Graham. Graham has always worked on the ranch, but was never provided the opportunity to become involved in making any of the management decisions.

The Howell Family: Sibling Rivalry

The Howell family is a third generation farm family. Carl and Bertha Howell are the primary owners/managers. They have three children who have different expectations of what will happen when Carl and Bertha retire.

The Morgan Family: Has It All Together

Ted and Sally Morgan have owned and operated a small beef operation for the last 40 years. Due to increasing expenses, their cow-calf enterprise has not recently been very profitable. The lack of profit has prevented Ted and Sally from saving much money for retirement.

Are you like one of these families?

Have you formalized your succession, retirement, and estate plans?

You spent your lifetime building your Legacy and a successful business.

Now is the time to

~ plan how to transfer that business to the next generation ~

~ plan your retirement ~

~ formalize your estate plan ~

Colorado State University Extension will host a workshop to provide needed resources and answer your questions.
